CAUTION TO THE FULLIC.
Since the introduction of my Schiedam schrapps into the United States a number of diquor mixers in New York have consecuted putting up mixed and poleoced gin, and calling it accepts. The name belongs expressly to my article—all echers are counterfeits and impositions on the public. I understand a number of barrooms in this city keep the poismona gin fer sale, on account of the cheapness of the price—two fallers and a half a dozen—when pure Holland gin is worth, by the pipe, one coliar and fifty cents a gallon. Look out for tuch imposters.
